

Our Town

By Peggy Blanchard

Youngest visitor of the week was Carol Smith, beautiful baby daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. A. Smith of Giles way. She's one of the prettiest girls we've seen, as I'm sure her proud parents agree.

John A. Donly of Los Angeles was a visitor, too. Taking a postman's holiday from his job in one of the world's largest newspapers, he just couldn't resist coming in to look over the Campbell Press shop. We had a dandy time talking picares, ems and deadlines and hearing of the days before machine setting was heard of and he, as a lad of 11, was apprenticed out to a printer in a small Illinois newspaper.

There he learned to set his stick—every letter by hand—with the best of them and at age 17 was doing a full day's work with the grown men.

Nowadays he watches over corrections for 48 high-speed machines, flashed by wire, teletype and gigantic presses to some two million readers daily. And he's still in love with his job, which proves he must have real true printers ink in his veins.

And Charles F. Livingston Jr. recently home from Tokyo, came to call. His whereabouts was reported to us from Army Headquarters in Japan, as still overseas on July 1, whereas he was actually at a Washington State post waiting for discharge after his enlistment period. He arrived in Campbell bright and early on the Fourth—a patriotic present for his parents.

Went over and visited the mobile unit of the Red Cross Blood Bank Monday, and there met two enthusiastic young men—the fellows who see that blood for transfusions is where it's needed—and when.

The cover four counties on emergency, as well as routine, business for the bank. And since the supply runs considerably behind the actual, desperate need most of the time, they are frequently called out at night to find donors having the proper type blood. Needless to say, the slogan "Every Pint Saves a Life" is a good bit more than a saying to them.

They do say that recovered patients who have been aided by the blood bank are the first and most cheerful givers, too. More folks would donate, but they're afraid they'll faint during the process. Many of the hardest donors are nervous beforehand, but brighten up when they find out that science has made the drawing painless.

Hobby Show, Orchestra and Swimming On Summer Fun Schedule for Grownups

Emil Janel, noted San Francisco artist, will appear in person at Campbell's Hobby Show July 31 and will show his outstanding collection of 200 pieces of wood carving.

Arrangements were made with the internationally known wood-carver by Art E. Tindall, recreation director, on Wednesday morning.

Janel's exhibit will be shown in the San Jose Public Library for a week after the one-day show here. It consists of human figurines, and other sculpture-like designs that have attracted favorable comment wherever they have been shown.

The woodcarvings will headline a display of local artists, craftsmen and collectors.

Draft Registration Ordered for Aug. 30; Ready Local Office

Draft Board offices for Santa Clara County will soon be opened at 439 South First Street, San Jose.

All local men between the ages of 18 and 25 are required to register for the draft during a 20-day period from Aug. 30 through Sept. 18.

No one would predict when actual inductions will begin. But this can not be before Sept. 22, or 90 days after Mr. Truman signed the draft bill making it law.

Eighteen-year-olds, not subject to the 21-month draft, may begin enlisting in the armed services tomorrow. By volunteering for one year and then serving a longer period in the reserves they may avoid the draft later. By law only 161,000 of the 18-year-olds may be accepted.

Maj. Gen. Lewis M. Hershey, selective service director, emphasized that all men 18 through 25, unless they already are in the active armed services, must register.

Whether or not a man is exempt from the draft makes no difference, he said. All must register, unless they now are in the regular forces and on active duty.

General Hershey estimated that

Utility Commission Approves Water Co. Rate Increase

Following several weeks of study, and a public hearing in Campbell, the Public Utilities Commission of California yesterday granted rate raises to the Campbell Water Company.

The company had petitioned for a readjustment of rates on their contention that present operating costs were out of proportion to their income. The rates have not altered in several years although the cost of pipe, labor and other necessary operating exigencies have in some cases doubled.

Rate schedules to be charged for water service billed on and after August 10 for users having five-eighths, three quarter and one inch meters are as follows: For the first 500 cubic feet or less per month, $1.50. Next 1500 cubic feet the rate is 25 cents per hundred cubic feet additional. As consumption increases the per hundred cubic feet rate drops until a low of 12 cents is reached. This applies to very large users of over 50,000 cubic feet per month.

The company had worked out a suggested schedule for the consideration of the Commission. Some modifications were made in the company prepared suggestion so that in actuality some users will now pay slightly less than

Blood Bank Lagging Despite Generous Response Monday

A pint of blood may save your life someday soon.

Four Campbell patients in need by hospitals owe their lives today to the Campbell Chapter, American Red Cross Blood Bank.

Blood bank donations in Campbell and central valley areas are lagging more than 60 pints under actual usage and some 200 pints below quota.

This is still true in spite of a fine response to the visit of the mobile blood bank unit here on Monday, and donations of many Campbell people at the Blood Bank Center in San Jose.

Blood was given to the bank by 31 Campbellites Monday in the First Methodist Church, where headquarters were set up by Dr. Frederick Proecher and his staff.

The donors were: Elaine Robertson, Donna Tuttle, Merle Gardner, James Earley, Anna Peterson, Alma Valencia, Warren Whitmore, Reginald Gazay, Marie Peterson, (Continued on Page 8)

The Santa Clara County Agricultural Conservation Association urged County apricot growers to begin selling their fruit through the San Francisco Farmers' Market.

The association went on record as favoring the move as the "best possible way to help growers get a paying price" for their fruit. Present canners' prices are insufficient to pay production costs, association spokesmen charged.

"There isn't a 'cot grower in the valley that isn't taking red ink," one member said.

The association heard a report from B. T. Galed who took fruit to the San Francisco market last Saturday. Galed urged other growers to take advantage of the direct outlet for their crops.

John Brucato, manager of the San Francisco exchange, also appeared at the meeting and offered to feature Santa Clara canning apricots until "growers had no more."

Brucato reported he had sold 300,000 pounds of Santa Clara fruit last Saturday.

The association appointed a committee, headed by Joseph L. Puppo, to call on Robert McArthur, who will attend a special growers conference in Washington July 26.

McArthur was instructed to ask government officials to:

1. To take canned apricot carry-overs off the market through school lunch and relief purchases.
2. To ask the Army and Navy to make heavy purchase of dried apricots.
3. To use dried apricots in the European Recovery Program.

Two Ladies of the Dairy Meet ... The Subject Could Be Hats

DALLAS, TEX. — The mutual greeting was, "Where did you get that hat?" when Springlea Gay Lass, grand champion Ayrshire cow owned by Curtiss Candy Company, was introduced to Elsie at the Texas State Fair. Gay Lass' smug look comes from the fact that she had just been named grand champion at the Texas fair. A week previously, she had won the same honor at the Dairy Cattle Congress, Waterloo, Iowa.

Fall Fashion Preview Puts Cotton Styles in Limelight

With the hot summer sun beating down brightly, women already are thinking about what they'll be wearing when the sunshine isn't quite so warm next fall, for fashion is one thing about which women are far-sighted.

Louella Ballerino, West Coast pacesetter in introducing new trends that catch on in the fashion world, just gave the girls a preview of what's in store for them in the cooler months to come.

Miss Ballerino again exceeded all expectations when she recently introduced a group of fall styles which combined a New England calico print with matching shades of cotton velveteen. Designer Ballerino thinks cotton is going to be seen everywhere this fall, and she has spotlighted it in her new collection.

Her picturesque and appealing styles feature the puff-puff sleeve and calico and velveteen jumpers. A princess style dress created in calico was the talk of her showing. Another sensation that stirred up the interest of fashion enthusiasts was a calico petticoat with an old-fashioned Grandma's pocket stitched on the hem of the skirt, combined with a two-way velveteen wrap around skirt and a velveteen blouse.

Edith Linn, St. Louis fashion expert, chooses cotton corduroy for many of her fall sportswear styles. Unusually peppy styling and a more vigorous feeling than last year, keynote the new sportswear.

Forrest Reese

Post, C. Thunen of Sunnyvale Post.

The above named officers will be installed at a dinner meeting August 16, the place to be selected by the committee on arrangements.

Typical of the new fall corduroy group is a dress featuring a high neck with tiny turn back tabs, cut-away front accented by pointed leather belt and four square buttons with very short flared boxy back. The skirt is flatteringly slim.

Fashion buyers, with one ear cocked to hear what the designers are saying and the other taking in what their fashion-conscious customers are saying, predict that cotton will make its appearance everywhere in fall and winter apparel of every type in dark shades and heavier weights.

Checking Prunes With Water

Many processors have resorted to cold or hot-water washes in checking the skins of their prunes for dehydrating, according to G. D. Warwick, assistant farm advisor, University of California Agricultural Extension Service. Lye solution will sometimes cause bleeding during dehydration.

Hot water is more efficient than cold water. However, cold water leaves the bloom on the skin and is more economical since no heating equipment is needed.

A new booklet, Dehydrating Prunes, has been published by the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of California. It is available free upon request from the Agricultural Extension Service office, 201 Post Office Bldg., San Jose, to anyone interested in small-plant operation with particular emphasis on the steps in preparing fruit for drying and the relative humidity during the drying process.

Methods of execution in the United States and Territories include electrocution, lethal gas, hanging and shooting.

California's annual yield of grapes accounts for almost eight per cent of the total world production.

Homemaking Today

By Claire Raymond
P. G. and E. Home Economist, San Jose

Corn-on-the-cob is truly a treat when roasted over an open fire. But what do most of us do with "roasting ears"? We pop them into a pot and boil them.

Here in California, where outdoor living is second nature, there's no reason why we shouldn't enjoy roast corn often. It's fine for barbecues, beach picnics or plain backyard gatherings. Californians are fortunate in another way, for roasting ears are on the market during a much longer season than in the Midwest.

To roast corn, carefully turn down the husks just enough to remove the silk. (A vegetable brush is a help in removing the silk.) Replace the husks and lay the ears on a grill over hot coals. Keep turning them during the roasting, which will take about 20 or 25 minutes. The husks should be dry and browned. For a different flavor, try serving garlic butter with the roasted corn.

Corn-on-the-cob also can be roasted in the oven. Leave the husks on, and after carefully removing the silk, place the ears on the oven rack. Bake for 45 minutes in an oven preheated to 300° F.

Steaming corn instead of boiling it in a large amount of water improves the flavor and saves food value. To steam it, stand the husked ears on end in a deep kettle or your deep well cooker. Add 1 cup water and cover the kettle. Cook on high until the water boils, then turn to low and cook for about 15 minutes, or until corn is done.

Junior Cooks may be a little troublesome to have under foot, but what mother doesn't remember the fun of her own first efforts at learning to cook? Your small daughter with flour-smudged face, sifting ingredients so earnestly, will be a homemaker herself some day. It's a necessary part of home training, and summer leisure provides the best opportunity for children to practice.

It is important to teach the beginner a few basic rules such as following directions carefully, measuring accurately and using the correct utensils and ingredients. Also, she should learn to put all supplies away and leave the kitchen clean and orderly. This will establish good habits and she will be more successful.

Foods especially liked by children, such as simple cakes, cookies or puddings, are good "first tries." Here are some cookie recipes which are easy for "small fry" to make.

FUDGE BROWNIES

1/4 teaspoon salt

2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 cups hot milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento (optional)

Bake for 12 to 15 minutes in oven preheated to 375° F. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

Kitchen gadgets do so much to lighten work—if they're wisely chosen! Otherwise they become mere space-wasters that clutter crowded drawers and cabinets.

It's a rare kitchen that has every tool a hurrying homemaker could use to advantage. One good way to acquire the working aids you'd like is to make a list in the order of your own needs and work down it with "pin money" purchases from time to time. Better yet, post the list prominently and perhaps your family will surprise you with gifts on special occasions.

You undoubtedly can add to the following list of gadgets that make meal preparation easier and more efficient:

Rubber plate scraper—for cleaning out utensils and bowls in mixing and baking, and preparing dishes for washing.

Shaker—for combining flour and liquid for thickening.

Pastry blender—to cut in shortening for biscuits and pastry.

Small wire whisk—for quickly beating up an egg, salad dressing or other mixtures.

Pastry brush—to grease baking pans or brush the tops of hot breads or pastry.

5-pound scales—for weighing fruit and sugar during canning season, weighing fruits and nuts for fruit cakes, dividing batter evenly in cake pans, separating dough for loaves of bread.

Timer—for timing pressure cooker, baked products, vegetables or eggs. Also handy for timing sterilization of baby's bottles or operation of washing machine.

Graters in different sizes—for grating vegetables, cheese, chocolate or fruit peel.

Potato peeler—for potatoes, carrots or apples.

Measuring cups in graduated sizes—for accurately measuring 1/4, 1/2, 3/4 and 1 cup quantities.

Lightweight aluminum hacksaw with replaceable blade—for cutting meat and bones and disjuncting fowl.

Tongs—for lifting hot vegetables, meats or hot breads. Useful around the barbecue.

Thermometers—for meat, candy and deep-fat frying.

Ice cream scoop—for ice cream, sherbet, cottage cheese or mashed potatoes.

Food chopper with lid—for chopping onions and nuts.

Plastic egg separator—for separating eggs without breaking yolks. It fits over a cup or small bowl.

Cookie press—and cookie cutters in different shapes, doughnut and biscuit cutters.

Food mill—for fruit and vegetable purees.

Wire salad basket—for washing salad greens and fruits such as strawberries, blackberries and youngberries.

Wire cake coolers—for cooling freshly baked cakes, cookies and breads.

Adjustable faucet spray—for spraying fruits and vegetables, or washing and rinsing dishes.

First Congregational Church Issues Call to Rev. Corwin Olds of Berkeley

First Congregational Church of Campbell has issued a call to Rev. Corwin Olds of Berkeley, unanimously requesting him to accept the pulpit soon to be vacated by Rev. Robert L. Carlson.

Rev. Carlson will leave Campbell in the near future to study at Yale University School of Divinity.

The invitation to Rev. Olds was issued by the congregation upon recommendation of a pulpit committee who called on him in Berkeley and heard him preach there.

Mr. Olds was graduated by University of Maine and the Theological School at Bangor, Me. He is present chaplain in the National Guard and was a chaplain during the war. He preached in the Campbell church July 11.

Mrs. Olds accompanied him on his visit to Campbell. The couple have three children, a married daughter who lives in Eureka, a son who is on active duty with the Navy after graduation from Annapolis, and a son, 16, still in school.

No reply to the invitation to the pastorate here is expected until Mr. Olds returns from San Luis Obispo, where he is now encamped with the National Guard.

Methodist Church To Have Mrs. Farr As Guest Organist

Mrs. Olive Hanger Farr will be the guest organist at the Methodist Church next Sunday morning. Mrs. Farr is a graduate of the Campbell schools, and holds her degree from the College of the Pacific, with a major in music. At present she is organist at the Salinas Methodist Church.

The soprano soloist for next Sunday will be Miss Loretta Shields, of San Jose. Miss Shields is one of the regular soloists for the First Methodist Church choir in San Jose.

Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne will preach on the subject, "An Approved Workman in the Church."

Near the lapping waters of the Bay at Hunters Point in San Francisco, P. G. and E.'s Station "P" is rapidly growing from a good sized power plant into a giant with an electric generating capacity of 360,000 horsepower. When the new power goes on the line this winter, Station "P" will be the largest generating plant on P. G. and E.'s vast system. And it's just part of our postwar construction program which is adding nearly 2,000,000 horsepower to our power supply.

We put salt water to work at Station "P". Two tunnels, six by nine feet, will pour 230,000,000 gallons of Bay water daily through the plant to cool the steam from the turbine-generators. That's nearly three times as much water as San Francisco uses every day.

When Station "P" hits its maximum output, it will produce six times as much electrical power as it does today. Still other plants, both steam and hydro, are on the way to provide more power for Northern and Central California homes, farms and factories.

Optometry Building Dedicated at U. C.

A quarter of a century of progress and the beginning of a new era for the University of California School of Optometry was celebrated in the dedication June 22 at 2 p.m. on the Berkeley campus of the school's new building.

The ceremony, held in connection with the congress of the American Optometric Association, meeting in San Francisco, marks the 25th anniversary of the founding of the School of Optometry.

Durant Hall, now a classroom building, was dedicated as the new School of Optometry. Presiding at the ceremony was Dr. Kenneth B. Stoddard, dean of the School of Optometry.

Claude B. Hutchison, vice-president of the University, made the dedication address, while the response was made by Dr. Edmund F. Richardson, president of the American Optometric Association.

Dr. Rupert E. Flowers, president of the California Optometric Association, was one of the speakers, and Dr. Thomas Peters, chairman of the building fund for the California group, presented a plaque cast for the building.

Conversion of Durant hall will be accomplished with a $380,000 building fund, $80,000 of which was raised by the California Optometric Association and the remainder appropriated by the State Legislature. Final concurrence of the State Public Works Board is awaited.

The main auditorium in the building will be named Minor Hall, in honor of Dr. Ralph S. Minor, dean of the School of Optometry, emeritus, who was instrumental in founding the school.

Navy top-bracket softball teams will meet in New York City the week of Sept. 5, 1948, in competition for the All-Navy Softball Championship.

Recreation Center Baseball Holds Sport Spotlight

The Campbell Recreation center baseball league progressed further this week with two games. The first game was between the Campbell Recreation Center and the Recreation Center at Willow Glen Grammar School. The tilt ended in a 10 to 3 victory for the San Jose playground team. Pitcher Plymale held the aggressive Willow Glen nine to a 3 to 3 tie till the fifth inning, when a home run accounted for a rally of runs for the San Jose team. The lineup was as follows: Pitcher, Plymale; first base, Shumway; second base, H. Vargas; third base, Hoover and Fry; shortstop, Hill; left field, E. Vargas; center field, Edgemon; right field, Mazzone; buck short, Chapman, Pierce and Lunt.

San Tomas Recreation Center continued its winning streak by defeating the Cambrian Recreation Center nine by a score of 17 to 9. This makes the second win for San Tomas this season and they stand the acid test next Tuesday when they meet the Campbell team at the Campbell diamond. ORCHARD CITY GRANGE NOTES

By ROBERT WURFER, SR.
The regular meeting of Orchard City Grange was held on July 12 at the Odd Fellows Hall in Campbell with H. M. Shadle presiding. We had a fair attendance considering that this is vacation time. A hearty welcome home was extended to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gordon, prominent and very active members of Orchard City Grange, who just returned from a trip East visiting in several states and Canada. The Gordons gave a very interesting talk about their trip and a promise to show some interesting pictures at a future meeting.

The Grange booth at the Campbell school grounds was a success with never a dull moment until the wee hours. By the way—yours truly just found out that throwing darts is a very fascinating sport.

The lecturer, Mrs. N. Rutherford, announces a full Boy Scout program for our next meeting, July 27.

Refreshments and funny stories were enjoyed after the meeting. The regular meeting of Orchard City Grange will be held on Tuesday evening, July 27, at 8 p.m. County Deputy C. L. Ryser will obligate a class of applicants in the first, second, third and fourth degrees. Reports of committees and a special report of the Carnival Committee will be heard. The ladies of the Home Economics Club are planning a rummage sale to be held in the Odd Fellows building July 30 and 31. Mrs. Ruth Livingston will be in charge of refreshments Tuesday night.

Revolutionary new equipment which eliminates most of the laborious, messy and smelly laboratory procedures heretofore employed in culturing fungi was exhibited recently at the annual convention of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Orda A. Plunkett, associate professor of botany in the University of California at Los Angeles, and Dr. J. Walter Wilson, Los Angeles skin specialist and clinical professor in the University of Southern California Medical School, demonstrated the compact wall cabinet which they designed to serve in doctors' offices as a combination miniature museum and laboratory.

Simple, practical, and inexpensive, the portable unit was conceived with the aim of providing practicing physicians with a means of growing and identifying fungi as part of their office procedure in diagnosing fungus diseases such as athlete's foot, ringworm, and coccidiomycosis.

Small perfume bottles were used by Plunkett and Wilson to replace the fragile and expensive glassware ordinarily used in growing fungi. The three-by-two-foot cabinet contains 130 preserved culture specimens of disease-causing fungi. Illustrations mounted above each specimen, 200 microscope slides and photographs aid in identification of growing specimens for which the cabinet also provides space.

Morie Morrison, nationally known cartoonist, says his formula for successful living is doing work he enjoys. Artist, writer and sportsman, Morrison has made a profession of his hobbies, and combines a rare talent for humorous caricature with an expert knowledge of sports. His recent book, Here's How In Sports, has won wide popularity throughout the country as a manual for hunters, fishermen and golfers.

Described by his friends as a good mixer, Morrison turns to his drawing board to illustrate his favorite hot weather thirst quencher, a California Julep. It's made by crushing a few sprigs of fresh mint and half a teaspoon of sugar in the bottom of a 10 ounce glass. Then fill the glass with cracked ice and add 6-8 ounces of Roma Sauterne. Stir and serve garnished with fresh mint.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

"Isn't Our Democracy really a Republic?"
—A QUESTION OCCASIONALLY ASKED BY OUR READERS.

We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do hereby constitute this Constitution for the United States of America.

Flameproof Suit Brings Safer Play

Mothers may be spared a few gray hairs as the result of a new cotton product that has just been placed on the market.

A leading New York department store reports that it is now selling the first 100 per cent flameproof, sure-safe playsuit for children.

The suit, made of processed cotton flannelette was tested under rigorous conditions. The cotton suit was sampled after every five washings and proved to be safe even after more scrubbing than a child's garment usually undergoes. The flameproofing treatment has no effect on the texture of the cotton material. In fact, it is said to make the cloth more durable.

The National Cotton Council says that the first kid's safety play outfit is a boy's baseball suit, and it will be followed by Indian, clown, cowboy and other play clothes.

Vets Service To Fill Positions

Veterans Administration Insurance Service, Oakland, will immediately fill 135 clerical positions paying $2,498 per year, VA officials reported today.

Applicants for the positions of premium review clerks must have one year of general office experience. Preference will be given to high school graduates.

Application forms may be obtained at the VA Insurance Service, 15th and Clay streets, Oakland, or VA Branch Office 12, 180 New Montgomery, San Francisco.

Papyrus was made of laminated strips cut from reeds gathered from the Nile River.

Eighty Per Cent Of U. S. Families Use Margarine

Four out of every five American families use some margarine in their homes, according to a recent study by a nationally known research organization.

The 31,839,000 families that include margarine in their diet comprise 80 per cent of the nation's total. This number represents a 15 per cent increase during the past two years.

The survey report pointed out, however, that regulation of margarine in four states is so strict that practically no margarine is sold. If these states are excluded from the tabulation and only the families who actually have an opportunity to buy the product are considered, the percentage of homes using margarine increases to 88 per cent, the study shows.

Completes Boot Camp Training

Robert Knowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knowles, 140 W. Rincon Ave., Campbell, has completed recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, California, with Company No. 139.

Knowles entered the Naval service on April 22, 1948, at the Navy Recruiting Sub-Station, San Jose. Before this he attended Campbell Union High School.

During his recruit training he played center on the basketball team.

His next duty will probably be Fire Control School at San Diego. Robert has been at home on a 12-day leave.

PANTI-DRESS IN KNIT DOTTED SWISS

Something to "write about" is Carter's newest white dotted swiss panti-dress twosome, made of fine knit cotton fabric. Beautifully smocked in pink or blue across front and back yoke and feather-stitched around neckline, sleeves and leg bands.

Good news for busy mothers because Carter's panti-dress twosome whisks on and off easily, and needs no ironing. Just suds it out and it is ready for another busy day.

The trunk length matching pant is made with band front and elastic back waistline. The set is made in sizes 6 months, 1 year, 1½ and 2 years.

Engineers Prove Canvas Awnings Give Top Results

Canvas awnings are doing more than their bit in helping beat the heat and keep homes cool and comfortable when summer sunshine sends the mercury skyward. A recent survey conducted by the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers proves that cotton canvas awnings keep 65 to 75 per cent of the sun's radiation from entering a room.

The scientists conducted experiments in specially constructed rooms on the roof of a Pittsburgh building during the summer months over a period of several years. The most common methods of shading windows were used in the experiments, including canvas awnings with dark finish, inside venetian blinds with light finish and extended at the same angle as an awning, inside aluminum-finished roller shades fully drawn, and exterior venetian blinds fully covering the window.

Results of the tests showed that 65 to 75 per cent of the heat was prevented from passing through the window by canvas awnings; 20 to 35 per cent by inside venetian blinds; 5 to 10 per cent by half drawn roller shades; 50 to 65 per cent by outside venetian blinds extended; 55 per cent by fully drawn roller shades; and 40 per cent by outside venetian blinds fully covering the window.

An unusual fact revealed by the experiments of the society is that canvas awnings are more efficient during the hottest part of the day when they are needed most. Between 12 and 1 o'clock cotton awnings keep half the sun's radiation

Veterans Insurance Deadline July 31

In order to afford veterans with lapsed National Service Life Insurance every opportunity for reinstating prior to the July 31 deadline, Veterans Administration announced that all its offices will remain open Saturday, July 31 to render extra service to these veterans.

Prior to August 1, veterans with lapsed term insurance have the privilege of reinstating any amount, from $1,000 to $10,000, by certifying that their health is as good as when the policy lapsed. They need pay only two monthly premiums.

After the July 31 deadline, veterans whose insurance has been lapsed three months or more will have to pass a physical examination to qualify for reinstatement, according to Robert P. Shields, San Francisco regional VA manager.

VA estimates that more than ten million veterans are eligible to reinstate upwards of one hundred billion dollars worth of insurance prior to the deadline.

Almost half of all Navy officers on active duty have risen from enlisted service, Bureau of Naval Personnel statistics show.

From passing through windows. From 2 until 5 o'clock, when radiation is more than tripled, 88 per cent of the heat is kept out by canvas awnings.

The National Cotton Council reports that in addition to being highly effective in reducing summer heat, canvas awnings are now flameproof and resistant to mildew and rot.

Flatbush Veterans Aid Seals in Drive

Jubilant reign throughout Oakland and the East Bay as the league-leading Oaks continue to display championship form in their Pacific Coast League pennant drive.

With the season half over, the Acorns are perched in the "driver's seat" and from all indications will continue to retain the number one position. The Oaks, however, are keeping a wary eye on the constant threats of San Diego, Los Angeles and the San Francisco Seals in the flag race.

East Bay fans are singing loudly the praises of Casey Sten-gel, fiery field general, and the Acorns with their troupe of old men, who have matched their skill and knowledge of the game against youthful endurance that predominates with the other league-leading clubs.

Old timers Ernie Lombardi,
Jack Salveson, Thornton Lee, Lou Tost, Nick Etten, Billy Raimondi and Dario Lodigiani are sparring the Acorns. Young players such as Will Hafey, Merrill Combs, Mel Duceabou and Billy Martin are providing the spirit that keeps the ball club hustling.

One thing is certain—Stengel's players will continue to play championship ball under his correct coaching and baseball
"savvy."

Coin Machines Big Help to Cancer Fund

HOLLYWOOD—"Coin machines have raised more money for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund than all other American products!"
This statement was made by Walter Winchell, newspaper columnist and radio commentator, second from left above, here to make a new Cancer Fund movie. The coin machine industry, representing hundreds of thousands of amusement machines, such as juke boxes, pin games and vending machines of all types, has already raised and turned over $120,000 to cancer officials for research on finding the cure for cancer. Coin machine owners, recognizing the public service nature of their equipment, are donating a share of the proceeds of their machines to this cause which benefits all humanity. Peanut vendors, penny weighing scales, and a hundred odd types of very human coin-operated machines are fighting cancer in this way.
Shown left to right above are Dave Gottlieb, president of Coin Machine Industries, Inc., Winchell, Herb Jones, vice president of Coin Machines, Inc., and Ray Maloney, chairman of the Coin Machine Industries campaign to raise funds for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

Two Visiting Educators In Geography Dept.

Two well-known Midwestern geographers are teaching Summer Session courses now underway at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. Alfred H. Meyer, Valparaiso University, will give a course on the Teaching of Geography—of especial interest to teachers in grade schools, high schools and junior colleges. Last year Dr.
Meyer served as president of the Council of Geography Teachers, the leading United States organization of geography teachers.

Dr. Henry M. Leppard, University of Chicago, will teach a course on the geography of Western Europe. Last year Dr. Leppard was president of the Geographic Society of Chicago, one of the oldest geographic societies in the country.

Dr. Meyer and Dr. Leppard will also teach elementary courses in geography.

In addition to these two visiting

U. C. DOCTORS REPORT NEW SYPHILIS RESULTS

Some 20 to 30 per cent of the people who are treated for syphilis cannot be cured by standard treatment. Stumped by the fact, doctors have long asked the question: Are some strains of the syphilis "bug" itself tougher than others, or do individuals vary in their natural resistance to the disease?

Medical opinion, which up to now has favored the latter view, may undergo a change as a result of new information disclosed by two University of California doctors at a meeting of the American Venereal Disease Association.

Different strains of syphilis exhibit different degrees of resistance to penicillin, said Drs. Russell A. Boak and Charles M. Carpenter, respectively associate professor and professor of infectious diseases in the University of California at Los Angeles Medical School, reporting on research in experimental syphilis sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Animal and laboratory space for the experiments was provided by the Birmingham V. A. Hospital, Van Nuys, California.

Confirmed in five different strains of syphilis, the discovery significantly points to the organism itself as the villain in those cases which do not respond to treatment. It may open the way to new methods of combating the disease.

The new knowledge, combined with intensive research on new drugs being conducted by Drs.
Boak and Carpenter and by others, initiates the possibility that more specific remedies than now exist may be developed for treating specific strains of syphilis.

The petrel nests in the Antarctic and flies to the Arctic regions, then back to the Antarctic each year.

FARMERETTE—Miss Pat Varner, 19, entered as "Miss Rototiller" in the contest held at the National Farm show in Chicago, defeated a field of eight contestants to become "Miss Modern Farm of 1947." Miss Varner, who measures 5 feet, 3 inches, weighed into the contest at 105 pounds—not including the Rototiller.

Blood Bank Lagging Draft Registration

Vera Dixon, Isabel Price, Hans Nielsen, Theodora Vick, June Gray, John Daugherty, Jane Putnam, Esstelle Hoerner, Louis Fourtane, Dale Dixon, Dolly Williams, Philip Nelson, Virginia Tindall, Elva Parks, Ruth O'Brien, Norma Jones, Alma Du Bois, George Smith, Louis Zeigler, Leila Merritt, Ruth R. Spiegel, James B. Bias.

Dr. Proescher is medical supervisor of the blood bank. Which means that he personally examines each prospective donor, supervises a staff of five specially trained nurses who assist with the drawings, oversees the storing and care of blood in the newly built laboratories at the center and sees to it that blood is available for emergency where and when it's needed.

"People are not yet aware of the importance of available blood for saving lives," Dr. Proescher said Monday. "At anytime, a giver or his family may need transfusion urgently in case of sickness or accident."

"In case of war, we would have to increase our supply tremendously. It is our aim to have a supply on hand to take care of large scale disaster or bombing attack, should war come; but in the meantime, the blood bank units have hardly enough to serve those who need it urgently now."

All residents of the Campbell area may have free blood when need arises, whether or not they have donated to the area bank. Blood is given absolutely without charge, Dr. Proescher pointed out, although some families have confused hospital and administration charges with fees for the blood itself.

Two technicians spend their full time caring for the precious life-blood. The whole fluid is kept at a temperature of 42 degrees, under sterile conditions. It may be used whole for ten days, or even as long as three weeks.

"Outdated" blood is converted into plasma—when there is any left over. So far, only four pints have been converted by the local center, because the demand so far exceeds the quota that would allow for an emergency shelf of the vital liquid.

Volunteers who assisted Monday were praised by Dr. Proescher for their devotion to the community enterprise. They are Mrs. E. E. Lamphear, Mrs. C. E. Fagalde, Mrs. Lucile Edgemon, Mrs. Edna Flagg, Mrs. Jeanette Nelson, Mrs. Barbara Ott, Mrs. Eva Ballott and Mrs. Anne Gardner, general chairman. Mrs. Emil F. Kollmer and Mrs. Olive Parysek served as nurses.

INJURED ON BIKE

Eugene Sabo, 10, 577 Robin Lane, Campbell, was injured when his bicycle crashed into the rear of a truck at San Tomas and Winchester Roads. The boy was sent home after emergency treatment at O'Connor Hospital.

Draft Registration

This means approximately 9,500,000 men will sign up at America's 4000 draft offices in the 20-day period beginning Aug. 30.

Exempt from the draft are all war veterans who served 90 days in the shooting war (Pearl Harbor Day, Dec. 7, 1941, to V-J Day, Sept. 2, 1945), or 12 months between Sept. 16, 1940, and June 24, 1948, when the Draft Act became law.

Also exempt are medical men regularly ordained ministers, students studying for the ministry, and conscientious objectors.

Men who were in the National Guard or an organized, drilling reserve unit on June 24 also are exempt as long as they stay in that organization and carry out duties.

The registration dates are staggered, with men 25 signing up first, men 24 next, and so on.

President Truman's proclamation called for registration set these dates:

Men born in 1922 after Aug. 30 will register first of all on Aug. 30. These are men of 25, about 300,000 of them, who would be ineligible after one more birthday.

Next to register will be all born in the year 1923. Some of these will be 24, some 25. But all born in 1923 will register Aug. 31-Sept. 1.

Persons born in 1924 will register Sept. 2-3; 1925, Sept. 4 or Sept. 7; 1926, Sept. 8-9; 1927, Sept. 10-11; 1928, Sept. 13-14; 1929; Sept. 15-16; and persons born in 1930 before Sept. 19 must register Sept. 17-18.

Boys born on or about Sept. 19, 1930, will register on their eighteenth birthday, or within five days of it.

Registration will take place in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Just because registration dates are ordered by age groups does not mean men will be drafted in that order, Selective Service headquarters said today.

"This has not been decided yet," they said.

Neither has it been decided how many men will be called. That, said Selective Service, is up to the Army, and will depend a lot on how many volunteers are signed up.

"The Army orders men, and we just deliver the number they request," the draft office said.

Secretary of Army Royall said recently that the first call will be "relatively small." The draft calls, he said, might total about 30,000 a month.

When the draft law was first worked out, it was estimated that about 200,000 men would be drafted by the fall of 1949. During the next two years, a maximum of 606,882 may be inducted.

The draft law, which has a legal life of two years, authorized the armed forces to build manpower up to 2,005,882 men. This includes the Navy, Marines and Air Force, which hope to get most of their men through volunteers.

Selective Service said its 4000 draft boards will be ready by deadline time. General Hershey said 13,000,000 draft and registration cards have been prepared.

previously. The aim of the company had been to spread their financial returns more evenly over a 12-month period rather than to have their peak returns just in the few summer months and a very limited revenue in the winter months. This was one of the theories approved by the Commission after their study and hearings.

A new well has this month been completed by the water company at Harrison and Hamilton avenues. The well has a proven capacity of 800 gallons per minute which will soon be pumped directly into the present town system, according to Homer Hyde, secretary of the company. Approximately 1200 customers are being served in the Campbell area.

park Men's Club, both teams having won the same number of games. A possibility of a play-off is present since each have another game on their schedule. In the event both teams win their remaining game a play-off for the lead would be necessary.

An All-Star game will be played Friday night, July 30. Teams will be composed of three players from each of the eight competing teams. At a manager's meeting held last Tuesday night the Hunt's Food team announced that they were forced to withdraw from the league due to the fact that so many of their men were working on the night shift. The Campbell Rotary Club, who have been playing exhibition games were named to fill out the Hunt schedule. They will also continue in the regular schedule throughout the second half of the season.

Fido Safe, Temporarily, Says Tax Collector

Owners of dogs in the unincorporated area of the county who have applications on file for dog licenses with Roy P. Emerson, County License Collector, may expect to receive their license together with the dog tag soon.

The estimated census of dogs last April was greatly underestimated. An additional shipment of dog license forms has been received and the dog tags are expected momentarily. In the meantime, owners of dogs need not worry. Emerson states that he expects to license 9000 dogs in the unincorporated area of the county during this fiscal year.
